As the story unfolded there was a colt born, that was given the name "Sparky," revealed in the comic strip is in memory of the original. The coloring book Sparky and Some Friends was created from the story of Life On Th' Rockin' W. The Price of Pearls

A Woman's Journey from Bondage to Freedom

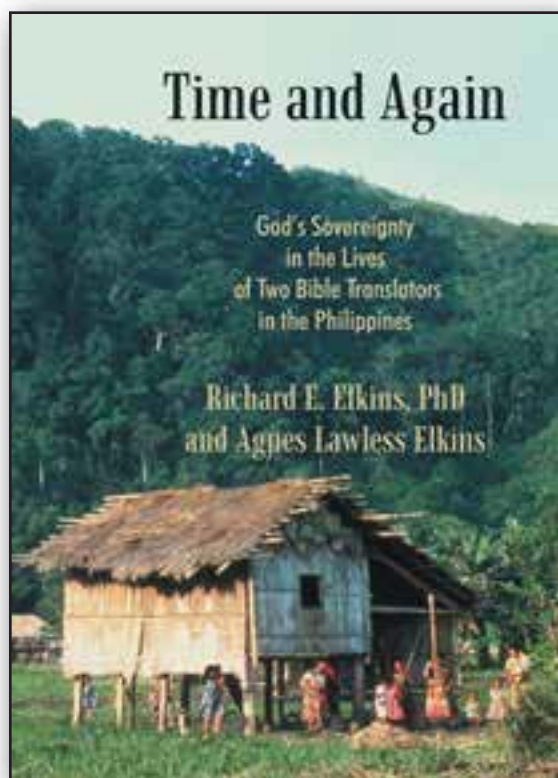

Patricia V. Manns

Through the eyes of a suburban wife and mother whose pursuit of happiness is overshadowed by personal turmoil, The Price of Pearls follows a woman's quest for esteem, identity, belonging, love, and personal acceptance. This memoir eloquently details the two-fold process of discovering true inner healing: embracing memories and unveiling secrets, especially those we are keeping from ourselves. Author Patricia Manns's ultimate search for serenity shows us that learning to accept things we cannot change is more than just a prayer for today or a hope for tomorrow. It is a lens through which we must view our past.

Selling the Right Way, Prayerfully God's Way

Unlock the God-given sales talent within you

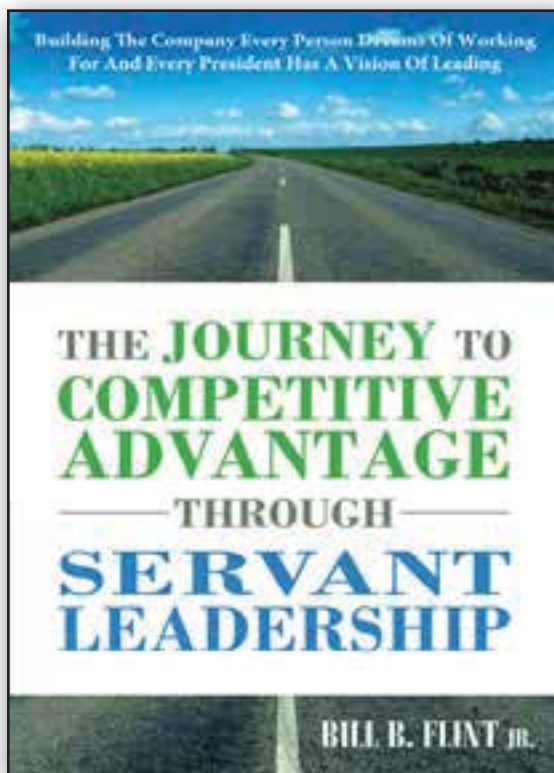

Jim Abraham

They cover a topic or two that may peak the interest of the reader, but they leave out two elements that are critical to a Christian sales professional's success. What are those two essentials you need to know? They are: 1.) Where does God fit into your life as a salesperson, and 2.) What else do you need to know to be a long-term sales pro? Where Angels Fear to Tread

One man's journey in starting his small business

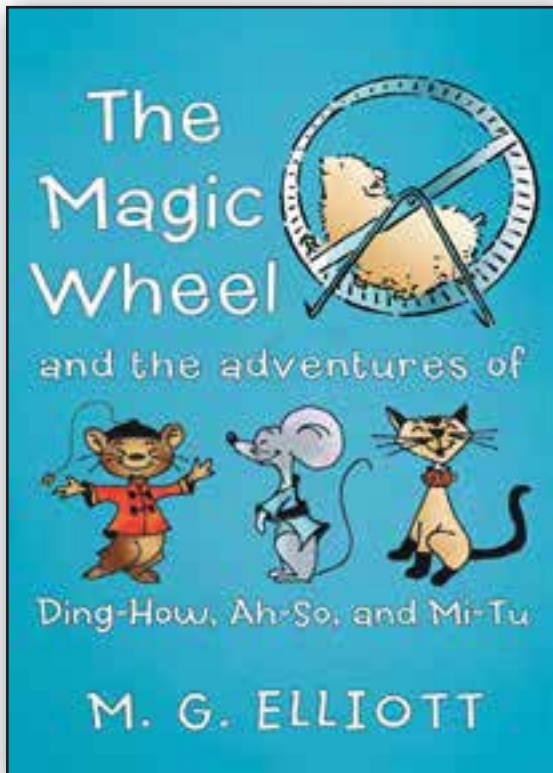

George H. Seaberg

The author's main reason for writing this story is to explain how a small manufacturing business succeeded in the late twentieth and early twenty-first centuries' competitive world market. His research for this book came from the notes and diary he kept as he ventured through the launch and then growth of his small machining and fabricating company in the period from 1972 into 2006. If you are thinking of starting your own business, the author's hope is that this book serves both as an inspiration and guide for you in pursuing your dream.

When Someone You Love Dies

Helping a Child Cope With Death

Cynthia A. Snyder, PhD

Our society is uneasy with the reality of death. Children are much more frightened of the mysterious and the unexplained than they are if they understand the natural process of death and society's common rituals, so that they will be able to manage their feelings and thoughts. Using a Christian framework, this book can help dispel the fears that a child encounters when faced with the death of someone they love. Children are encouraged to say "good-bye" in a way that is both meaningful and understandable to them, enabling them to cope with grief and loss.

POEMS FOR CONTEMPLATION

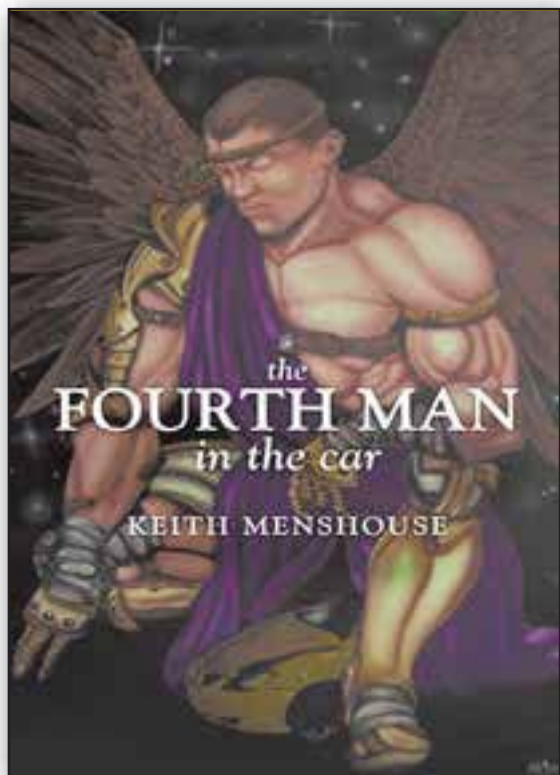

Nancy DeMotte

When I began to have a closer relationship with God and to study the Bible, these poems seemed to just start flowing; I had to get them down on paper before I forgot something. I became a Christian at the age of 13, and I know God has always been with me through all the ups, downs, and disasters of my life. But until I started wanting a deeper relationship with Him, He was just there when I called, waiting on me to want to be closer to Him. I can truly say with confidence that the closer you get to God, the easier it is to deal with this life and all of its problems.

In Defense Of A Nation

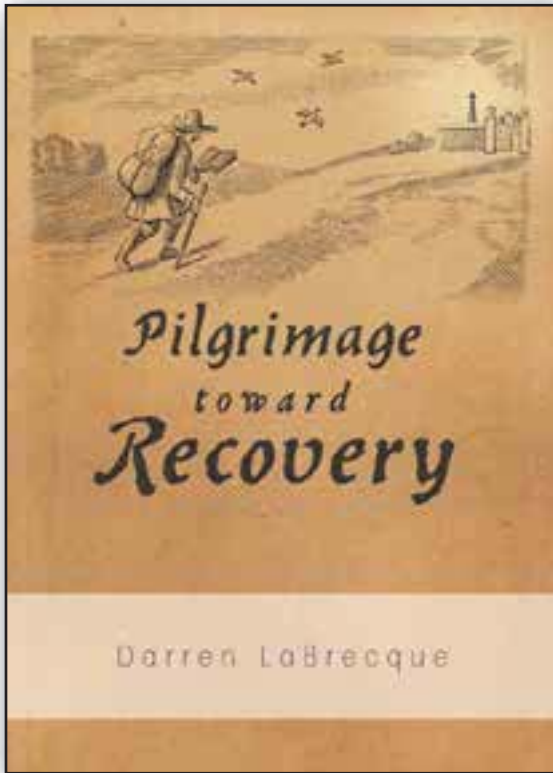

Stanley Grant

As history bears out, God does not use bigger church buildings, cool songs with lights and big drums, or elaborate productions to deliver nations from the jaws of tyranny. He does it by first destroying the corrupt political systems that oppress the people, then bringing about a spiritual awakening in the people, and finally bringing liberty to the people. History is about to repeat itself once again in America. Using scripture and current events, In Defense of a Nation frames the coming battle in a way that will cause you to lose sleep.

And Now, a Word from Our Creator:

Russ Holloman, Ph.D.

God wants His children to live righteous, holy lives and gave us moral laws to protect us from what is sinful, injurious, and corrupting. Included in God's moral laws are rules to guide both our thinking and our behavior. What is right, He commanded; what is wrong, He prohibited. Sixty-five of God's rules—both commandments and prohibitions—are discussed as being both rational and logical—both theologically and psychologically sound. All of them are intended to help us live in ways that permit God to see Himself in us.

I Fought the Lord, and the Lord Won

A Memoir

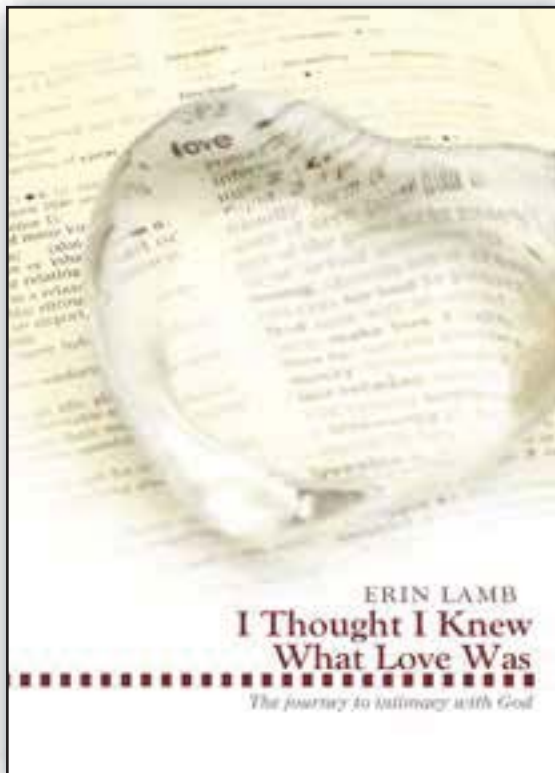

James W. Anderson

From birth through age 57, I considered myself a staunch believer in my creator, but failed to embrace the reality that Jesus was truly the son of God in human form. Those struggles lead me to contrast my life to other organized groups of believers and wonder what I might have been capable of doing if my conceptual belief system had a Jihadist foundation instead of my reality. I describe two brushes with death in which the second event took my life in a totally unexpected direction. I describe that profound shift as if I were writing an op-ed, and the wild-goose chase that ensued.

But through it all, our Lord walks with us. God offers holy support, whether we choose to accept it or not. He yearns to hear our prayers. Remember to praise with the promises and thank our God in all circumstances. Fill your prayers with thanksgiving for blessings.

His mother, Julia, died in 1951, leaving seven girls and five boys for Deacon Timothy Menefee to raise. Times were very tough, but faith and prayers of Deacon Tim brought all twelve through.

Simply God

Gods Messages of Love and Encouragement

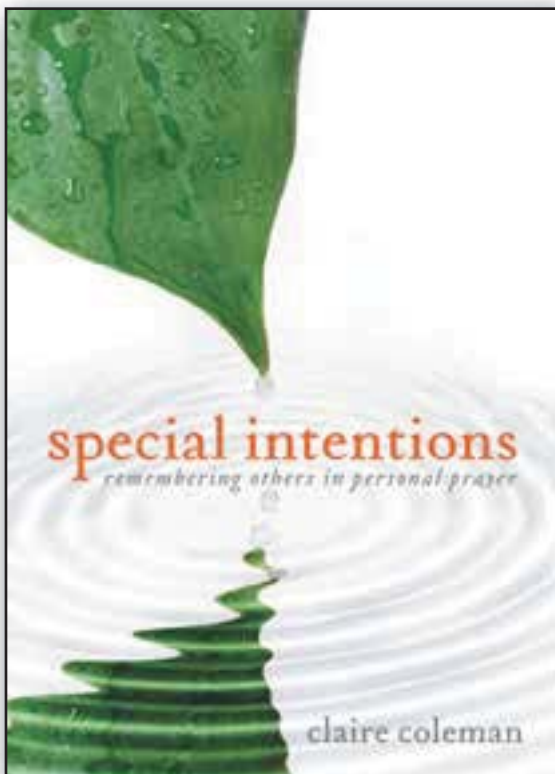

Rick Richards

When pastors and evangelists preach, they try to convince you to change your lifestyle now. This is not their fault. They know that they have to do this. They have to get you close to God because time could be short. That is not equipping and preparing. Equipping and preparing means giving you the tools of the trade. That is living God's Word and how to plan to do this. The Word teaches that pastors are to equip the servants. All that time convincing and not equipping is destroying God's world. Jesus equipped and encouraged God's children and changed the world. What is our excuse?

The Garden and the Ghetto

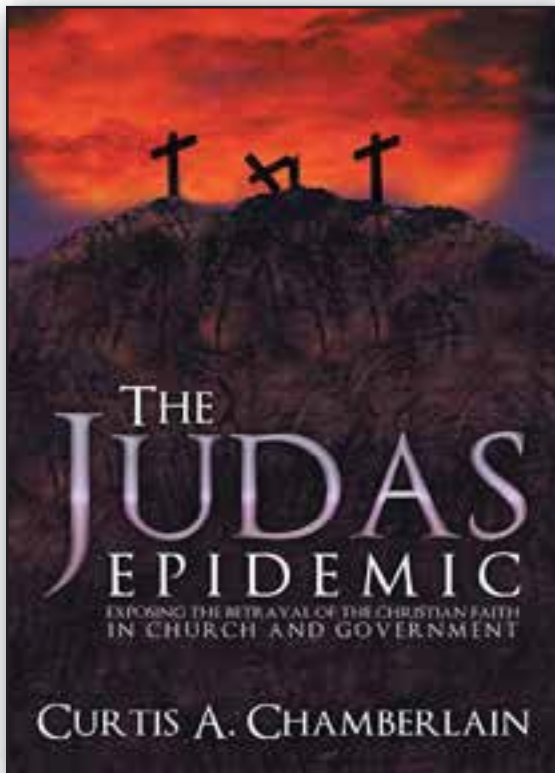

Jeff Deel

The Garden and the Ghetto is a collection of stories that illustrate the continued effects of obedience and disobedience, as well as essays that teach us how to return to a garden existence with the One who made us. The stories are based on the lives of men and women with whom we have shared victories and defeats at City of Refuge through the years. Some have decided to live in a pattern of "long obedience" and continue to thrive. Some are still in the process of deciding which way to go, and others chose their own way.

The Judas Epidemic

Exposing the Betrayal of the Christian Faith in Church and Government

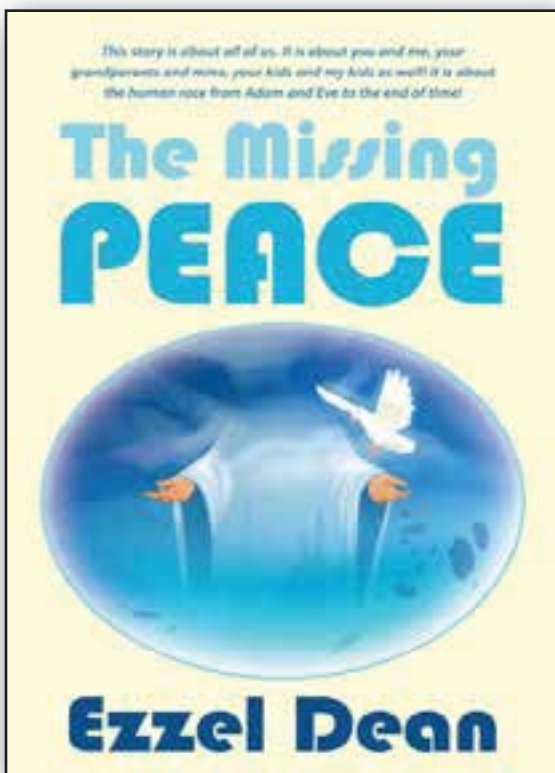

Curtis A. Chamberlain

Have you ever wondered why today's "postmodern church" seems to look so different than the church of years gone by? Have you ever wondered what has happened to that "old-time religion" that was good enough for your parents and grandparents, but doesn't seem to be good enough for people of today? The Judas Epidemic seeks to explain why the church and world governments are running down the "wide path of destruction" mentioned in John 7:14; who it is that is leading the way down that path; and why you should beware of their deceptive doctrines.

The Next Day

How God Still Speaks

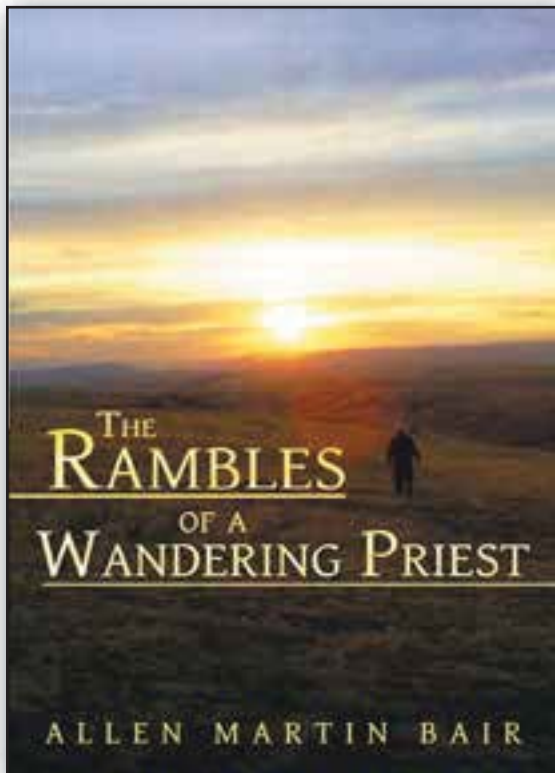

Tim Leiphart

Is it possible to spend an entire lifetime running as hard as you can, only to look up, sweaty and panting, and find that you've barely left the starting line? It's very easy to get off the path without a clear and steady voice directing and guiding you to the finish. But what does God's voice sound like? What is He saying? Where is He leading? God speaks into the everyday life of the Christian, and He uses language that doesn't require a seminary degree or position on the church staff to understand the words; God asks only for ears to hear and eyes to see.

The Rambles of a Wandering Priest

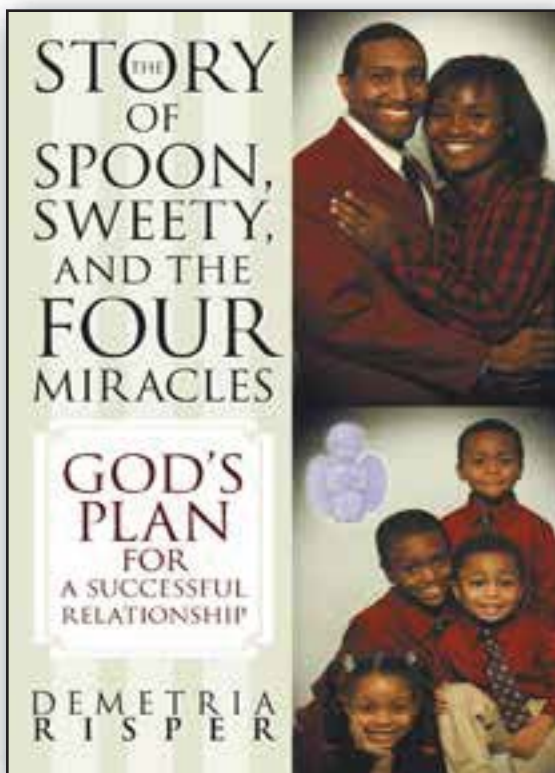

Allen Martin Bair

This is a book about the path of Jesus Christ and one man's observations while trying to walk it. It is not for the faint of heart, or of faith. It is written to Christians, primarily about Christians and the Church in general. At times, it is brutally honest. It challenges modern "Christian" teachings with the faith of those Christians who came before us. It speaks with the voice of the ancient Church within the language of psychology and today's pop culture. It shouts for a return to the core principles of what Jesus taught.

Over a decade ago Gerald Crabb sat down at a piano in his home and began to play and sing a few lines of a song that was going over and over in his mind. To Pray as Jesus Prayed

Daniel Odle, Sr.

Most people have much experience in praying to God, but far fewer hear the Father speaking to them in the way that Jesus heard the Father. Clearly people would pray much more if their spiritual communication was to the extent that they talk with one another in the natural sense. To Pray as Jesus Prayed addresses this obscurity with clear Bible teaching. It shows you what matters most is not what you say to God, but what God says to you.

Successful Pastoral Ministry

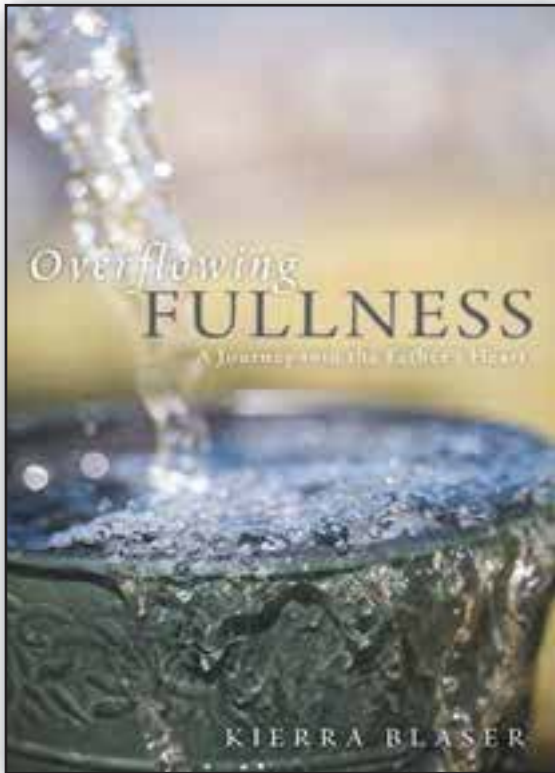

Everett Stenhouse

This is an invitation to look deep into the heart of the successful pastor who mounts the pulpit on the Lord's Day to speak of the unsearchable riches of Christ. It affords the reader opportunity to contemplate more than the contents of a sermon or the mechanics of preaching, but to carefully and prayerfully view the inner workings of the pastor's soul. None would disagree with the suggestion that what a person is outruns, outspeaks, and outlasts what a person says.

A New Outlook

Coming out of the Grieving Place

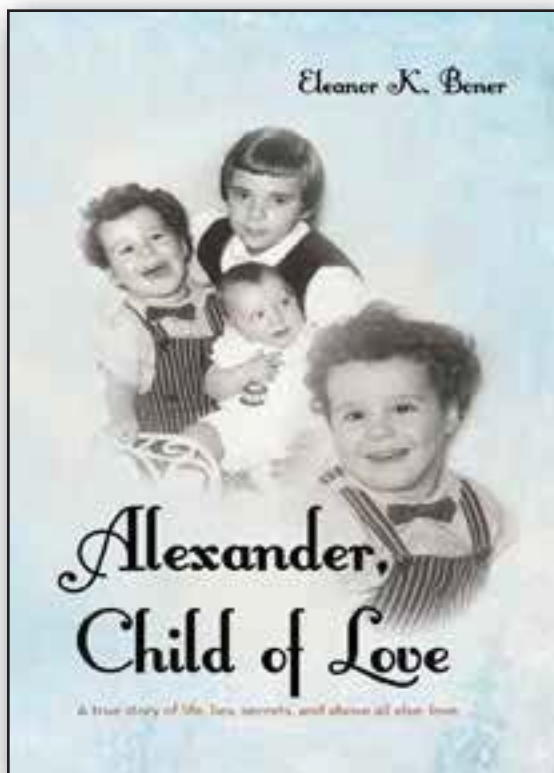

Pastor Stephen Singleton

When challenged to give pastoral counsel to a grieving friend, Pastor Steve Singleton was inspired to write this simple volume of lessons that challenges conventional attitudes about handling grief. The author acknowledges the reality of pain and then challenges the Christian believer to initiate the process to come out of the place of grief and sorrow. He affirms that we “feel what we feel” and inspires everyone to “get moving” from the grieving place. Using a combination of pastoral experiences and the Scriptures, Pastor Singleton provides a new outlook on the life of the grief-stricken.

Beyond the Shades of Gray

Because Homosexuality is a Symptom, not a Solution

Dean Bailey

Beyond the Shades of Gray is based upon Christian fundamentals and beliefs. Author Dean Bailey uses practical applications of Bible scripture throughout the book, without religiosity. Scripture is used to confront various aspects of this very controversial subject—head-on. Homosexuality is a subject that absolutely needs to be dealt with truthfully, and without religious avoidance. What one longs for is a deep and heartfelt sense of brotherhood, and the author proposes that the real issues behind homosexual behaviors are not about sex!

Bruised Knuckles and Other Lessons in Faith

Reflections on Reality from a Mentor's Heart

Grant McDowell

You might wonder how faith in God relates to anger, sex, disappointment, or being in love. This book challenges the belief that faith is for those who disconnect from reality. Thirty-one reflections teach principles that will help you manage anger, deal with disappointment, slow down, respond to conflict, take a new look at church, forgive, pray, and grow more emotionally and spiritually healthy. With a combination of wisdom and humor, Grant McDowell encourages people dealing with life's day-to-day issues. He has built these principles on a foundation of faith in God and involvement with people in the nitty-gritty corners of life.
